

HEY, I'M JENNIFER!

I'm a Midwestern girl who loves all things painting, home decorating, DIYing, and glittering!

I have built a thriving online business based on my experience in owning a decorative painting business in Kansas City, called the Magic Brush, Inc.

I love to help creative people turn their talents and hobbies into lucrative online businesses and I've coached thousands of biz owners in my Creators' Inner Circle monthly coaching group and my Creator's Roadmap course. I wrote a book for creative biz owners to help work through unique demands of owning a business, called "Covering Your Business in Prayer: A Daily Devotional for Creative Business Entrepreneurs". I also host a weekly podcast where I encourage my listeners to go for their creative biz dreams.

I am totally passionate about making things pretty and homes beautiful. I call my unique style "comfortable glam" and "lived in luxe." Every week I share my redecorating and remodeling endeavors, DIY painting projects, and other designs on my blog, themagicbrushinc.com, and to my social media followers.

Every day I get to do the two things I love: decorating and encouraging women!
